Headline:
Cold and windy with frequent blustery showers.

Today:
A windy day with bright spells and blustery showers. The showers will give some heavy and prolonged downpours in places and be mixed with hail, with sleet or snow falling over the highest ground. Feeling cold, especially in the wind. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers will continue through this evening, but they will become increasingly isolated with some clear spells developing. Strong winds at first will steadily ease. Cold under clear skies by morning. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Thursday:
Sunny spells and isolated showers for much of Thursday, with the showers most likely in the south. Clouding over from the west after midday, with rain arriving by evening. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Overnight rain clears to sunshine and showers on Friday. Milder on Saturday but cloudy with further rain. Early rain on Sunday clears to leave bright spells before returning by evening.
